

The Robert Stuart House, also known as the Agent's House or Agency House, was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1971 and designated a Michigan State Historic Site in 1965.

The Robert Stuart House is a two-story, Federal style structure with side gables sitting on a brick foundation. It is built with hand-hewn timber frame and clad with clapboards. The roof is shingled and features gabled dormers. The front facade has a two-sided stairway leading to a small entry porch. The entrance door is flanked by sidelights and pilasters, and the multiple windows have small panes.
